

Are you a candidate for a modern dental solution?

If you are missing one or more teeth, then you may be a candidate for dental implants and natural teeth restoration.

Are you ignoring missing teeth?

Check with your dentist, to prevent further oral health complications that could affect remaining healthy teeth.

Do you suffer from headaches or migraines?

Often missing teeth affect the positioning of your other healthy teeth, causing a misfit of the upper and lower jaw, causing stiffness in the muscle and joints. Often, restoring missing teeth provides relief of these symptoms.

Has your facial silhouette changed?

Missing teeth can cause a loss in bone density, because the bone is no longer stimulated when chewing. The jaw line changes and shrinks, making you look older than you really are.

Do you wear dentures?

If so, you may experience problems with an insecure fit, or embarrassing situations and pain. Implants are a good option because they act like your own natural tooth roots. They can support dental crowns that look and feel like real teeth.

Unhappy how your teeth look?

Some teeth may be discolored due to medications taken as a child. Or your teeth may not be perfectly aligned, affecting your smile or facial profile. Ask your dentist for options available for a beautiful smile, using all-ceramic prosthetic solutions.
